Directions: In the paragraph below, first underline each prepositional phrase. Then, draw a box around each preposition and circle the object of the preposition within each prepositional phrase.

REMEMBER: A PREPOSITIONAL PHRASE MUST ALWAYS BEGIN WITH A PREPOSITION AND END WITH A NOUN OR A PRONOUN!!!!

At this moment the scene inside the peach was one of indescribable chaos. James Henry Trotter was lying bruised and battered on the floor of the room amongst a tangled mass of Centipede and Earthworm and Spider and Ladybug and Glow-worm and Old-green Grasshopper. In the whole history of the world, no travelers had ever had a more terrible journey than these unfortunate creatures. It had started out well, with much laughing and shouting, and for the first few seconds, as the peach had begun to roll slowly forward, nobody had minded being tumbled about a little bit. And when it went BUMP! and the Centipede had shouted, "That was Aunt Sponge!" and then BUMP! again, and "That was Aunt Spider!" there had been a tremendous burst of cheering all around.
