

Name: _____

Date: _____

VERBALS: PARTICIPLES – IDENTIFYING PARTICIPLES

Grammar Review #5

Directions: First, identify all parts of the sentence: prepositional phrases, subject, predicate, direct object, indirect object, predicate noun, predicate adjective [whichever are present in the sentence]. After, identify the participle within the sentence [if there is one] by circling the participle and drawing an arrow to the noun it modifies. Finally, on the line, label the participle as present [PR] or past [PT].

- _____ 1. The running guard caught the pass from Troy.
- _____ 2. The spilled oil spread over the floor.
- _____ 3. Carol has rescued the trembling cat.
- _____ 4. The nervous bird was pecking at the girl.
- _____ 5. The elected chairperson must work hard.
- _____ 6. Davis is throwing the rings at the milk bottles.
- _____ 7. I made a running leap to clear the last hurdles.
- _____ 8. The engaging film star has smiled and posed for pictures.
- _____ 9. I had noticed the necklace on the table.
- _____ 10. The new video store has a limited number of foreign films.

Name: _____

Date: _____

VERBALS: PARTICIPLES – IDENTIFYING PARTICIPLES

Grammar Review #5

Directions: First, identify all parts of the sentence: prepositional phrases, subject, predicate, direct object, indirect object, predicate noun, predicate adjective [whichever are present in the sentence]. After, identify the participle within the sentence [if there is one] by circling the participle and drawing an arrow to the noun it modifies. Finally, on the line, label the participle as present [PR] or past [PT].

- _____ 1. The running guard caught the pass from Troy.
- _____ 2. The spilled oil spread over the floor.
- _____ 3. Carol has rescued the trembling cat.
- _____ 4. The nervous bird was pecking at the girl.
- _____ 5. The elected chairperson must work hard.
- _____ 6. Davis is throwing the rings at the milk bottles.
- _____ 7. I made a running leap to clear the last hurdles.
- _____ 8. The engaging film star has smiled and posed for pictures.
- _____ 9. I had noticed the necklace on the table.
- _____ 10. The new video store has a limited number of foreign films.

Directions: First, identify all parts of the sentence: prepositional phrases, subject, predicate, direct object, indirect object, predicate noun, predicate adjective [whichever are present in the sentence]. After, identify the participle within the sentence [if there is one] by circling the participle and drawing an arrow to the noun it modifies. Finally, on the line, label the participle as present [PR] or past [PT].

- _____ 1. I felt sorry for the beached baby whales.
- _____ 2. Drew has decided to order a piece of the tempting chocolate cake.
- _____ 3. The determined police officer chased the thief.
- _____ 4. The accomplished musician prepared for the approaching concert.
- _____ 5. We had overlooked the hiding puppy.
- _____ 6. George had worried a great deal at the amazing water park.
- _____ 7. Will you be deciding soon about the posted job?
- _____ 8. The flashing lightning scared the dazed children.
- _____ 9. The sitting boy believed no one could see him behind the bush.
- _____ 10. We were thinking about your offer and have decided to accept it.

Directions: First, identify all parts of the sentence: prepositional phrases, subject, predicate, direct object, indirect object, predicate noun, predicate adjective [whichever are present in the sentence]. After, identify the participle within the sentence [if there is one] by circling the participle and drawing an arrow to the noun it modifies. Finally, on the line, label the participle as present [PR] or past [PT].

- _____ 1. I felt sorry for the beached baby whales.
- _____ 2. Drew has decided to order a piece of the tempting chocolate cake.
- _____ 3. The determined police officer chased the thief.
- _____ 4. The accomplished musician prepared for the approaching concert.
- _____ 5. We had overlooked the hiding puppy.
- _____ 6. George had worried a great deal at the amazing water park.
- _____ 7. Will you be deciding soon about the posted job?
- _____ 8. The flashing lightning scared the dazed children.
- _____ 9. The sitting boy believed no one could see him behind the bush.
- _____ 10. We were thinking about your offer and have decided to accept it.